

Apparel Export Promotion Council

Tender Notice for designing Website

AEPC has initiated a Common Compliance Code to make India the global benchmark for Social compliance in apparel manufacturing and export. An institutional mechanism has been put in place with DISHA - (Driving the Industry towards Sustainable Human capital Advancement) which is designed to build the capacities of SMEs in the garment manufacturing units spread all over India as well as to eliminate multiple compliance processes and associated costs.

In order to fulfill these goals a comprehensive set of web platforms have to be developed to take care of following:

- To Design/Develop and maintain a website for Common Compliance Code with an online community where participants of the program can learn, communicate and discuss ideas and experiences.
- This portal will also provide transparent reporting on the status of the program.
- The agency may develop interactive learning modules for anytime, anywhere access by factories, auditors and other participants.

If you are interested, please send your proposal addressed to Ms. Chandrima Chatterjee, Director - E&C, Apparel House, Gurgaon latest by 19.08.2011.
